

HE HOPED FOR A CRIME STORY

But All the Reporter Got Was News of a Bulldog Fight.

A police reporter on his way to the city hall this morning saw great splashes of blood on a downtown sidewalk.

"Foul play" was the first thought that entered his head. The frozen surface of the sidewalk gave no clue. Perhaps the police could reveal the facts. But the guardians of Columbia's peace knew nothing. In fact, they were scarcely interested.

The reporter was not satisfied. What if someone's life blood had ebbed away last night—a night which even Sherlock Holmes would pronounce "fine for foul deeds." The undertakers knew less than the police. Indeed it was a mystery.

Back to the scene of action went the reporter. No curious crowd was standing around the red spots on the "pure white snow." Despairing, yet hating to go back without a story, the reporter went into a drug store to get warm. There a clerk was talking to a customer. "That was sure dog fight we had across the street last night," he said. Instantly the reporter awoke.

"So I hear," answered the customer. "Two white dogs, both bulls." The reporter had heard enough—too much. In fact—and he slammed the door as he left.

SKETCHED AT THE ANNUAL MILITARY BALL

PASSING OF FEDS MEANS OWNERS SAVE EXPENSES

By United Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—When the Giants and other institutions of great wealth are paying Christmas tree prices for stars of the late Federal League, there is weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth among the great majority of ball players at the prospect of having to stand for a few concessions to His Majesty, the Clubowner, in 1916.

Especially in the training season may the average ball player be hit where he feels it most—in the latitude of the hip where he keeps his greenware. A few lucky stars hold to rosy prospects for another year or two by reason of long-term contracts made when the Feds seemed determined to spend all the money in the world.

It's hard to figure how they can be hit by the changed conditions unless the clubowners choose to fly in the face of the Supreme Court, the law and the silk-hatted fraternity appetizing to the same. But of the unlucky athletes who found themselves caught without the protection of binding whereases, they're telling another story as the time to go South draws near.

They Won't Be So Hungry Now.

The lads whose chief concern in spring is the pretty tintinabulation of the dinner bell may fight shy of the dining room on the conditioning tour this year. At the rate of 25 cents for soup and $1.25 for steak, they may not be as hungry in the spring of 1916 as in the days of the baseball war.

Then the magnates were smiling through their tears and standing for nearly anything to keep the slaves in line. Now with the magnates on terms of extreme friendliness there's stringency of the old parsings which

GIVES MEAT SUBSTITUTES

College Suggests Dishes to Reduce High Cost of Living.

Many of us are eating entirely too much meat, according to Miss Bab Bell of the Missouri College of Agriculture. Meat furnishes protein, which is an important muscle builder and source of energy, but it has two objections: (1) it costs more and more each year, and (2) it is very likely to putrefy in the process of digestion and form objectionable acids and other products which are injurious to the health. Muscle-building foods of other kinds can be substituted for that furnished by meat if we will use eggs, nuts, peas, beans and similar things instead of meat for one or two of the three daily meals. Fish is not a good substitute for meat from this standpoint as it has the same kind of protein which forms objectionable acids.

The extent to which other foods can be substituted for meat depends in part upon the character of the work being done. Less meat and a greater proportion of meat substitutes should be used by those who work indoors, than by those who are in the open air most of the time, but even those who are working hard in the open air often get along well with little meat after they have been accustomed to the substitutes if the better half has learned how to prepare them in the most appetizing way. For the benefit of those who wish to use meat substitutes the Missouri College of Agriculture has carefully tested a number of dishes and finds that these directions give good results:

Pecan Nut Loaf.—Mix together one cup of bread crumbs, one cup of pecans, one cup of milk, one cup of look portentous for the spring-time gamblers.

It was a matter of jest in last year's training tours that the players were rubbing it in on their obedient owners. Expenses meant little to them; the clubowners had a lot of 'em, and the more they paid the more they seemed to grin.

Training bills ran into thousands, and the spring games brought only a few paltry shekels, scarcely enough to buy liniment for winter-softened hurling wigs. And the start of the league season found the clubowners maced for a right respectable roll.

No one has announced it yet; maybe no one will; but persons in the know of baseball don't believe for a minute the magnates will be tossing away railroad fare, hotel expenses and other coin this year just to hear it jingle along the pavement.

Maybe a whole crowd of athletes will have to pay the conductor for the ride from their respective homes to their equally respective rendezvous. Maybe they will have to go through certain financial formalities with the hotel man this year which were attended to in 1915 by the club treasurers, and maybe—while the game of supposin' is strong—maybe some of the players will find the price of their own uniforms deducted from the first semimonthly paycheck.

Ballplayers winked at their financial and gastronomic strategy on the road in other years. They dropped off at way stations and stayed the pangs of hunger with lunch counter sandwiches, though they were allowed liberally for dining-car meals at dining-car prices. It was a form of graft and with some athletes amounted to a goodly sum in the course of the season.

boiled rice, two eggs, two tablespoons of butter. Season with salt and paprika and bake in a buttered baking dish. Serve with a cream sauce.

Omelette.—Beat the yolks and whites or four eggs separately. Add to the yolks a thick cream sauce made of 1 cup of milk, 3 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons butter, pepper and salt. Fold in the whites and cook in a buttered frying pan. Omelettes may be cooked on top of the stove or in the oven. Small pieces of ham, bacon or green pepper added to an omelette give an excellent flavor. Cheese is used extensively in omelettes. It should be melted in the cream sauce and then added to the yolks.

Macaroni and Cheese.—Break macaroni into uniform pieces (one cup of macaroni). Drop into boiling water, boil until tender. Drain and rinse in cold water. Place in a buttered baking dish. Make a cream sauce using 2 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons butter, one cup of milk, salt and pepper. Melt one cup of grated cheese in the cream sauce. Pour over the macaroni. Sprinkle with bread crumbs and bake.

FORMER M. U. STUDENTS WED

Miss Lenore Clay and S. L. Swetland Marry at Chillicothe

News has just been received in Columbia or the wedding at Chillicothe Monday night of Miss Lenore Clay and Samuel L. Swetland, both of Chillicothe. Miss Clay was a student in the University during 1912-13, and 1913-14. She had a leading role in the second presentation of "Hundred Dollar Bill." Mr. Swetland attended the University in 1912-13, and again last year. He is a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

tion, and I am ready to vote."

"I withdraw all of my opposition," said Councilman Kellogg. "If this is the light that Mr. Klass is going to put it in. I know to what he refers and I also know that the rumors are false. I will vote yes upon the recommendation and will ask Mr. Shaw and Mr. Lipscomb to vote yes with me."

The motion was passed unanimously. Through a misunderstanding, Councilman Hawkins, thinking Councilman Kellogg would vote against the motion, voted no. Councilman Kellogg informed him of his intention and Councilman Hawkins' vote was changed to the affirmative. Councilman Kellogg then made the statement that he would never advise the council in the future to consult any University men. The council adjourned.

(A report of the routine business transacted by the council will be found on page 2.)

WILL GIVE LECTURE IN FRENCH

Madame E. Guerin Will Talk in University Auditorium February 11.

Madame E. Guerin, officier d'Academie et de l'Instruction Publique, and membre de l'Ordre du Nichan, will give a lecture on the three heroines of the French Revolution—Marie-Antoinette, Madame Roland and Charlotte Corday—in the University Auditorium Friday, February 11. Madame Guerin will wear costumes of the persons represented, and the lecture will be illustrated with lantern slides of persons and scenes of the period. Madame Guerin will be accompanied by her daughter, who will act as page and assistant in the presentation.

The lecture will be given under the auspices of the Romance language department of the University and will be in French.

Dr. Chester Murray said, "Madame Guerin speaks French slowly and distinctly enough for a beginner in French to understand her, but this in no way interferes with the beauty of her pronunciation."

Madame Guerin has made more than 1,400 lectures in Europe and the United States. She is now making a tour across the continent. She will lecture at the University of Illinois before coming here and later at the University of Kansas.
